Special Olympics Bharat

A sports program for the inclusion of Persons with Intellectual Disability

What is Intellectual Disability

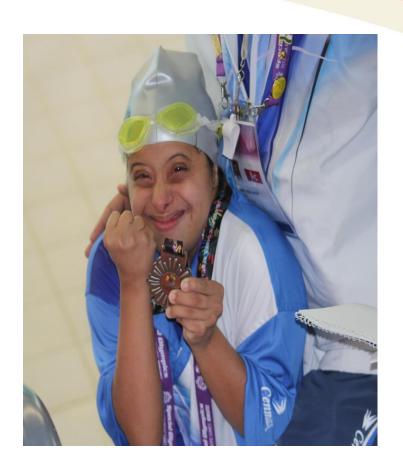

- •Intellectual disability is characterised by significantly belowaverage intellectual functioning (generally regarded as IQ below 70) combined with impairment in carrying out varying aspects of daily life and adapting to the normal social environment.
- •Intellectual disability is not a disease. There is no cure for intellectual disability
- •Causes could be numerous including brain damage or stunted development as a child.
- •It is not subject to radical change. Improved abilities and confidence in social settings are particularly evident when a person with disability becomes employed and is successful at work.

Challenges

- •Intellectual disability can range from mild to profound; mildly and moderately-impaired people can often learn to live independently.
- •Profound ID means limitation of cognitive and intellectual abilities, namely difficulties in perception, understanding, attention, memory, and reasoning.
- •People with intellectual disabilities can experience a full range of emotions and express happiness and joy.

Words Matter

Words can open doors to cultivate the understanding and respect

Words can also create barriers or stereotypes that are demeaning to people with disabilities and also rob them of their individuality

- Refer to participants in Special Olympics as "Special Olympics athletes" rather than "Special Olympians" or "Special Olympic athletes."
- We use the term "Intellectual disabilities 'and not 'Mental Retardation'. The term 'Retard' is a banned term
- Refer to individuals, persons or people with intellectual disabilities, rather than "intellectually disabled people" or "the intellectually disabled." The person is placed before the condition.
- A person has intellectual disabilities, rather than is "suffering from," is "afflicted with" or is "a victim of" mental retardation/intellectual disabilities
- A person "uses" a wheelchair, rather than is "confined" or "restricted to" a wheelchair
- "Down syndrome" has replaced "Down's Syndrome" and "mongoloid."
- Do not use the label "kids" when referring to Special Olympics athletes. They are Athletes /Persons/People/Children
- Do not use the adjective "unfortunate" when talking about persons with an intellectual disability.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS STRATEGY 2021-24

THE STRATEGIC PLAN AT A GLANCE

Special Olympics changes attitudes and behaviors through sport. We do it by showcasing the gifts and talents of people with ID, creating friendships and demonstrating the best of the human spirit. This Plan has two goals:

GOALA

Improve local sports participation and well-being to strengthen communities

GOALB

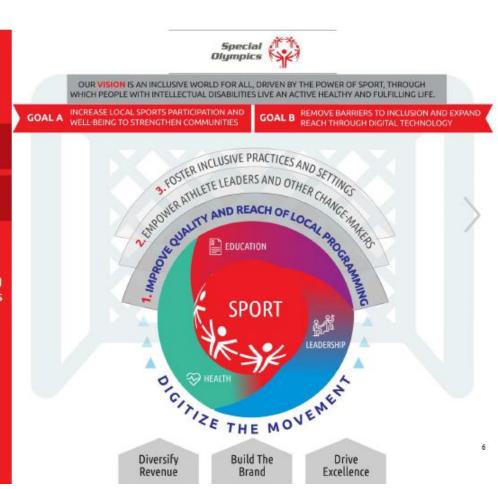

Remove barriers to inclusion and expand reach through digital technology

Three strategies will lead to achievement of these goals:

- S1. Improve quality and reach of local programming
- S2. Empower athlete leaders and other change-makers
- S3. Foster inclusive practices and settings

All of this will be made possible through four enablers:

- E1. Digitize the Movement
- E2. Diversify Revenue
- E3. Build the Brand
- E4. Drive Excellence (People and Practices)
