Message from Our President

DR MALLIKA NADDA

President, Special Olympics Bharat

Some moments speak louder than words ever can. A mother quietly wiping her tears as her child is applauded. A coach beaming with pride as their athlete crosses the finish line. A volunteer holding a nervous participant's hand before their first event. These moments may appear small, but they hold the kind of meaning that stays with us forever.

Throughout the past year, we have witnessed these deeply moving moments unfold across India not only in stadiums and schools, but in communities where sport was once a distant dream. In the smiles of children who feel accepted for the first time, in the voices of young leaders who now carry their stories with confidence, in the eyes of families who no longer feel alone- we see the power of inclusion at work.

The journey of Special Olympics Bharat has never been only about medals or milestones. It has always been about people. About trust. About listening. It is about creating spaces where every individual, regardless of ability, can be celebrated for who they are. These spaces are built slowly- with patience, with empathy and with relentless belief in human dignity.

It is impossible to speak of this movement without honouring the people who hold it up every single day- the team behind Special Olympics Bharat. From the national office to every corner of our country where our programmes reach, this team works with commitment that is rarely visible, but always felt. Whether it's planning an event in a remote village, answering the call of a parent who needs guidance, preparing athletes for international games or simply staying late to ensure a small detail is right - their effort touches lives in ways that cannot be captured in any report.

What makes this team extraordinary is the care with which they work. We are also fortunate to be supported by a growing network of partners, schools, government agencies and community leaders who believe in the mission of inclusion. Their trust and collaboration have helped us widen our reach, deepen our impact and connect with those who need us most.

Message from our General Secretary

DR. D. G. CHAUDHARI

General Secretary, Special Olympics Bharat

Some of the most meaningful progress often happens quietly in early morning practices, in a parent's gentle reassurance, in a teacher's encouragement or in the quiet confidence of an athlete preparing for their first game.

The year 2024–25 brought many such moments small yet powerful, filled with courage and connection. From schools in remote villages to international arenas in Turin and Gothenburg, our athletes reminded us that ability shines when given a chance. They inspired not only applause but reflection on what it truly means to belong.

Across India, our movement is growing in reach and in heart. We are forming deeper bonds with families, reaching new schools and creating spaces where athletes feel accepted and encouraged. Each of these steps matters.

Behind every success are people- coaches who show up every day, programme teams who work quietly behind the scenes, volunteers who give their time with love and staff members who keep everything moving with care and commitment.

I want to take a moment to acknowledge the Special Olympics Bharat team across our national office and every state- whose tireless work, creativity and belief in our mission continue to move this journey forward. Their dedication is not always seen but it is always felt. It brings light to places where there was once hesitation, and hope where there was once doubt.

I am grateful to everyone who is part of this journey - to our athletes who show incredible spirit, to their families who trust us and to our supporters who help bring these efforts to life.

We are not just running programmes. We are building something deeply human - a community where every person feels seen and celebrated.

Message from our Executive Director

MR. V. K. MAHENDRU

Executive Director, Special Olympics Bharat

Every time an athlete steps onto a field with confidence in its stride, every time a parent smiles with pride, every time a child feels seen we are reminded why this work matters so deeply.

The year 2024–25 gave us many such moments. Quiet victories in classrooms, loud cheers on the playing field, and the kind of joy that stays with you long after the event is over. These are the moments that shape who we are.

Our athletes gave us reasons to pause, to reflect and to celebrate not just because they performed but because they showed up with courage, grace and belief. They reminded us that strength comes in many forms, and that inclusion is built through small, everyday acts of kindness and encouragement.

Behind each of these moments are people, mothers who never gave up, teachers who went the extra mile, volunteers who showed up again and again and partners who stood by our side with open hearts. Also great appreciation to everyone working for SO Bharat, the national office people work hard to make all this possible.

I want to offer my deepest appreciation to everyone who works tirelessly for Special Olympics Bharat especially the National Office team, whose dedication and behind-the-scenes efforts make it possible for our athletes to shine and our programmes to grow.

As we turn the page to a new year, we carry with us a sense of deep gratitude. And we move forward with the promise to keep listening, keep learning and keep creating spaces where every person no matter who they are is valued, supported and celebrated.

Thank you for being a part of this journey.

A total of 91 matches were played across nine divisions, with Indian athletes delivering exceptional performances. India's athletes secured 14 medals in bowling- four gold, six silver and four bronze.

Healthy Athletes Program “MedFest” Hosted by Jharkhand

The "MedFest" event organised by Special Olympics Bharat Jharkhand in collaboration with Asha Lata Viklang Vikas Kendra on 20th September 2024 was a significant milestone for athletes with ID in the region. The health screenings conducted during the event were pivotal not only in identifying and addressing immediate health concerns, but also in ensuring that the athletes were fit and prepared for their upcoming participation in Special Olympics sports. By providing athletes with essential medical evaluations in areas such as Special Smiles (oral health), Healthy Hearing, Fit Feet (foot and lower limb health) and overall health promotion, the event made sure they received the care they need to perform to the best of their abilities.

For many of the athletes, this program marked their first ever exposure to professional healthcare. Timely interventions through referrals for further treatment were not just a benefit for the athletes' athletic journeys, but also for their overall well-being.

The involvement of dignitaries like Shri Hari Mohan Jha, Chief General Manager of Bokaro Steel Plant, Mr. B S Jaiswal, Director of Asha Lata and Principal Mr. P K Deby in the event's inauguration emphasises the importance of community support and the recognition of the challenges faced by athletes with ID.

THE ROAD AND VISION 2025

As Special Olympics Bharat closes a chapter on a transformative year, we look to 2025 with renewed clarity and purpose. With every milestone achieved in 2024–25, we have reaffirmed our commitment to creating inclusive spaces where persons with intellectual disabilities are seen, heard, and empowered — on and off the playing field.

Our vision for 2025 is both ambitious and grounded in the lived realities of our athletes and their communities. At the heart of this vision is a three-fold commitment:

1. Expanding Access Through Local Partnerships

We aim to deepen our grassroots network across districts by forging stronger partnerships with local schools and government bodies. The goal is to identify and train more athletes in underserved regions, ensuring no child or adult with an intellectual disability is left behind due to lack of access or awareness.

2. Inclusive Leadership and Athlete Empowerment

Special Olympics Bharat will focus on creating more platforms for athlete leaders to voice their ideas, represent their peers, and participate in decision-making processes. With Young Athlete programs and Athlete Leadership initiatives gaining momentum, 2025 will be about scaling these programs so that inclusion is not just practiced, but led by our athletes.

3. Health, Wellbeing and Holistic Development

In 2025, we will strengthen our health programs by integrating screening camps, family health awareness sessions, and mental wellness modules into the core of our regional and national events. With continued support from clinical partners and volunteers, we will ensure our athletes thrive in every aspect of their lives.

LOOKING FORWARD

2025 marks not just another year, but a promise — to evolve from events to impact, from participation to leadership, from awareness to acceptance. Every coach trained, every mother empowered, every athlete celebrated is a step closer to a truly inclusive India.

The road ahead is clear: WE WILL KEEP MOVING FORWARD, TOGETHER.
